

1 KILLED; 3 WOUNDED IN DRUNKEN CAROUSAL

Scene in Taylor Mines Saturday Night Most Horrible of Recent Years.

John Barleycorn, alias Moonshine, was abroad in all his ghastliness, Saturday night, and when his toll was counted Sunday morning it numbered one human life, two dangerously wounded men, untold suffering, sorrow, trouble, woe, disgrace and the beginning of a long and expensive routine of legal procedure. It seems that while a minstrel show was in progress in the U. M. W. of A. hall at Taylor Mines, Saturday evening, a number of drunken men gathered in an ante room in the front portion of the building and after considerable carousing, trouble arose between Joe Matthews and two Wilson brothers, Mose and Job. In the melee that followed Matthews fired a number of shots from a revolver, which he had hidden under the bib of his overalls. A bullet penetrated the right lung of Jesse Austin, a bystander, mortally wounding him, but it is not definitely known who fired the fatal shot. His death occurred at about 5 o'clock the following morning. Mose Wilson received a bullet in each leg, one leg being broken, and he is now in a serious condition. The bullets have not been removed. Job Wilson was shot in the hand.

After or in the midst of the firing it is said that Job Wilson severely beat Matthews over the head, face and body with a bottle, and when the bottle became broken he inflicted a number of dangerous cuts with the jagged edges. At first it was feared that Matthews might not recover, but his condition is improving. Sheriff Bratcher was called and with Deputy Frank Tichenor and County Attorney, A. D. Kirk, went to the scene the following day. Matthews and Mose Wilson were not able to be brought to Hartford, but Job Wilson was placed under arrest, but gave bond in the sum of $500.00 and was released.

Oscar Tenis, of Taylor Mines was also arrested by the Sheriff on a charge of selling intoxicating liquor. He is now in jail.

CONSTABLE R. B. CANARY FULFILLING HIS DUTY

Mr. R. B. Canary, of Fordsville, who recently assumed his duties as special peace officer at McHenry, is making a splendid record and has already begun to deliver the goods. He brought to the Sheriff's office last Wednesday one of the most unique stills ever seen either in pre- or post-Volstead days. Its boiler consisted of a teakettle, holding about two gallons and the heating apparatus was an ordinary gasoline burner. Instead of a worm, the operator had utilized a sponge to catch and condense the alcohol vapor, pressing the liquor out with his hands. The outfit was found by Constable Canary hanging in a tree, in the woods near McHenry, but no trace of the owner could be found. The kettle was full of mash and about a gill of moonshine was found in a fruit jar. It is estimated that the capacity of the still would be about a pint a day.

Roy Ensor, of McHenry, was arrested by Mr. Canary, Thursday on a charge of keeping intoxicating liquor for sale. He was brought to Hartford and placed in jail, but gave $300 cash bond, Saturday and was released.

William Oliver was placed under arrest, Saturday night, by the same officer and brought here, Sunday. He is now in jail. Breach of the peace is the charge. It is reported that he was drunk and disorderly and beat up his father-in-law.

Mr. Canary is to be commended for the active effort he is making to curb lawlessness. He is furnishing an excellent example of wholehearted performance of duty on the part of a peace officer. Its effect will be salutary upon lawbreaker, fellow-officer and the citizenship of the county.

PLACED UNDER BOND

At a recent special term of the Ohio Quarterly Court, Henry Daugherty, his wife, Lucy Daugherty, and son, Carl were given an examinant trial on a charge of keeping intoxicating liquor for sale and held over to the November grand jury under bond of $200.00 each.

Henry Daugherty was again arrested Sunday by Sheriff S. A. Bratcher, on a charge of selling liquor and is now in jail.

VETERAN OF THE ARGONNE RE-INTERRED AT CLEAR RUN

The body of Corbett Lake who was killed by shrapnell while advancing against the enemy in the Argonne forest, Oct. 15th, 1918, arrived here, Saturday afternoon, and was taken to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lake, to await interment the following day. The funeral was preached by Rev. R. T. Harper in the grove near Clear Run church after which the body was given a military burial in the cemetery nearby. About a score of Legionnaires from the posts at Hartford and Rockport, assisted by a number of other uniformed ex-service men, participated in the burial service. To Mr. Lycurgus Reid, of Rockport, a veteran of the Orphan's Brigade of the Southern Army, was given the honor of commanding during the ceremonies. An immense congregation was present.

Corbett volunteered as a member of Co. H, the old Hartford organization, Aug. 17th, 1917, and after receiving proper training was sent to France, where he became a member of Co. M, 4th Inf., 1st Div., serving with this organization through some of the hardest fighting of the war. He lived less than two hours after being wounded, and his body was buried on the battlefield, but was afterwards removed to the cemetery at Romagne, France, from whence it was recently removed for return to the United States.

He was 24 years of age at the time of his death and besides his parents, was survived by four brothers and three sisters. One of the brothers has since passed away. In 1907 he professed religion and joined the M. E. church remaining a Christian until his death. He was an intelligent and industrious young man with bright prospects for a successful future. May we ever hold his memory sacred and strive to make proper use of the rights and liberty which he sacrificed his life to maintain.

SCHOOL FAIR GREAT SUCCESS

The Ohio County School Fair held here last Friday was a great success in every respect. Twenty-six schools were represented by good sized delegations and there were spirited contests for the various prizes offered. The most spectacular feature of the day was the parade through the business part of town, which occurred about 1 o'clock. The indoor part of the program was carried out at the High School building, in the forenoon. An enjoyable and instructive feature was the address by Prof. McHenry Rhoads, of Lexington. In the afternoon, immediately following the parade, the games, contests and athletic stunts were staged at the Ohio County Fair Grounds. The prize for the best display in the parade was won by the No Creek school, with Chapman second. Goshen, Alexandria and West No Creek tied for the largest percentage of pupils present, based on enrollment, each school showing 100 per cent attendance. West No Creek won the prize for the largest number of trustees and patrons present, 58., with No Creek second. Hartford won the first prize for greatest number of points scored, with No Creek second. A complete list of the individual awards will be published in our next issue.

MRS. LUCY HIRSCH

Mrs. Lucy Hirsch, widow of the late William Hirsch, died at her home in Narrows, at 7:40 Thursday morning, after an illness lasting many months. She was 67 years of age. Before her marriage she was Miss Lucy Maples. She had been a member of the church for many years and was well known and respected in her community. Her only near surviving relatives are two brothers, Wesley Maples, of Narrows, and Luney Maples, of Hartford, R. F. D. No. 2.

The funeral was preached at the residence, at 1 p. m. Thursday, by Rev. J. F. Sanders, pastor of Narrows, Methodist church. The body was laid to rest in the Gentry burying ground, at 3 p. m. the same day.

FARMERS PROTEST AGAINST HIGH ASSESSMENTS

Not only Daviess county, but all over the state taxpayers are protesting against the present assessment of farm lands. Land values have dropped in the last year or two, but the state tax commission will not allow the farmers to lower their assessment. Two years ago the taxpayers of the state were led to elect Edwin P. Morrow governor of Kentucky on the promises he made of a lower rate of taxation of Kentucky. The letter from James A. Scott, chairman of the Kentucky State Tax commission, to Clarence Westerfield, tax commissioner for Daviess county, is an illustration of how Gov. Morrow's promises to the taxpayer.

At a recent meeting of the Union County Farm bureau the following resolution was adopted:

Realizing that farm lands throughout Union county have depreciated in value from 30 to 50 per cent, and that the sale price of all farm products are below cost of production, and believing that the farmers are bearing an unjust proportion of taxes:

Be It Resolved, That it is the sense of this bureau that the valuation of all farm properties should be listed for taxation for the assessment as of July 1st, at a value at least 33 1-3 per cent below the list of July, 1920, and that it be suggested and recommended to the membership of this bureau that each member make out his list of farm lands for the current tax year in accordance.

In this connection A. R. Long, president of the Union County Farm bureau, issued the following statement:

"On July 1st, all property in your possession is subject to taxation and when making out your schedule you should give an account of all property you have on hand on that date. The value of your property should be based upon its net earning power. If you have a note bearing 6 per cent interest, it is subject to a state tax of 40c and leaves you a net income of $5.60 for each $100 of value you have. If you have stock in some corporation that is able to earn a large dividend the stock is valued in proportion to the dividend earned and should be taxed on that basis. If one share of stock for $100 should earn $12, it is subject to 80c state tax, leaving $11.20 net, its value would be double and should be turned in for taxation for $200. If it earned only $3, its net value would be worth but the half of the one earning $6, therefore should be turned in for $50.

"You will see in the daily papers the quotation each day of the value of stock of various corporations. For instance, on June 25, 1921, each $100 share of the B. & O. R. R. was worth only $34, and if you owned ten shares you would give it in for $340, the present value of the stock while a year ago it might have been worth $650, twice as much, and you would have given it in for that amount. On June 25, 1921, L. & N. stock was worth $107 for each $100 share, then this stock would be turned in for $107.

"Therefore, if money invested in stocks and bonds should be turned in for taxation, valued upon the net earnings, then the money you have invested in other property should be taxed likewise. If you have land producing corn, wheat, oats, hay, etc., and last year these products brought you—for corn $2, wheat $2.50, hay $40, etc., while on July 1st of this year the same land producing the same number of bushels per acre and wheat is worth only $1.15, corn 60c, hay $10 to $15, then the selling value of that land has been reduced the same as the stock of a corporation that failed to make its regular dividend. A man who has his money invested in a farm has just as much right to receive $5.60 for each $100 value as the man who has $100 in stock in a corporation.

"Farm taxes have been increased since 1913, based upon the increase in value of farm products. Now many of the products are selling below what they were selling for before the war, and as the selling value of these products represent the earning power of your money invested, you readily see that the value of your land has declined and that your taxes should be reduced in accordance. The owners of tangible property are unable to meet the present tax burden upon property. There must be some relief. Our expenses, both state and county, must be reduced. Pressure must be brought to bear upon our senators and representatives that the tangible property owners are going to hold them responsible for state affairs and our fiscal court must remember that the county affairs are in its hands.

LOCAL PYTHIANS JOURNEY TO CENTRAL CITY

Judge John B. Wilson, Dr. J. R. Pirtle, Prof. W. P. Rhoads, and Messrs. W. S. Tinsley, S. T. Barlett, Noah Rowe, Iva Nall, J. P. Casabier, J. B. Tappan, E. E. Birkhead, and McDowell A. Fogle, representing Rough River Lodge, No. 110, Knights of Pythias, went to Central City last Thursday night to attend a meeting of Calanthe Lodge, No. 144. The Central City brethren have recently come to life with a vengeance and "told the world" Thursday night by conferring the Rank of Page upon thirty-eight candidates. Grand Keeper of Records and Seal, J. W. Carter, Superintendent Jasper Eckler, of the Pythian Home, and Prof. McHenry Rhoads, member of the Board of Trustees of the Home, were present and made addresses. Judge Wilson was spokesman for the Hartford delegation.

After the initiatory work the Knights repaired to the basement of the Methodist Church where they were treated to a sumptuous banquet prepared by the good ladies, after which there was another round of speechmaking. The master of ceremonies in behalf of Calanthe Lodge was Brother Sam Danks. The visitors unanimously voted the Muhlenberg Knights to be ideal hosts.

WILSON AND CARY FINISH SUCCESSFUL SPEAKING TRIP

Hon. George S. Wilson and Hon. Glover H. Cary completed the second lap of their speaking tour of the county at Magan Saturday night after having spoken at Prentiss, Beaver Dam, Horse Branch, Dundee and Fordsville, having good sized and attentive audiences at all points. The interest of the people in the cause represented by these gentlemen was especially emphasized at Fordsville Saturday afternoon. In spite of a basket ball game and a rival political speaking at the city hall the moving picture theater was well filled with men and women interested in the improvement of condition in Ohio county and in the district. Both Mr. Wilson and Mr. Cary made an excellent impression at all points visited and gained many friends and supporters for themselves and their companions on the ticket.

The popularity of the Southern Agriculturist is shown by its circulation, which is now 375,000.

This offer is intended for our farmer friends, who are urged to take advantage of it at once, because we have only a limited number of subscriptions which we can give FREE in this way. When these are used this offer will be withdrawn.

Hurry! First come, first served.

ARRESTED FOR KEEPING LIQUOR FOR SALE

Clarence Grant, of near Olaton, was arrested and brought to Hartford, Tuesday, by Constable Robert Quisenberry. He is accused of keeping intoxicating liquor for sale. Authorities released him under $500.00 bond.

Mr. Andrew King, who has been residing with his daughter, Mrs. E. Crabtree, for some time was taken in a motor ambulance to the home of another daughter, Mrs. O. R. Blansford, of Owensboro, where he will take osteopathic treatment. He has been quite ill for some time.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN SUCCEUMS TO PARALYSIS

Mr. James Gentry died at his home about three miles N. E. of Davidson, at about 11 p. m. Tuesday. He was 76 years of age and had not been seriously ill within the past 50 years until a few weeks ago, when he suffered a light stroke of paralysis. Although he soon partially recovered from this, heart trouble and other complications soon arose and he became gradually worse until the end.

He was born in 1845 the son of Benjamin and Ann Gentry and was employed on his father's farm until the outbreak of the Civil War. When the 17th Ky. Inf. was organized he enlisted, although under the required age, and served with that organization until the close of the war, receiving one wound. In 1866 he was married to Miss Mollie Whittinghill. To them were born five sons and three daughters. The eldest, Travis, died several years ago. Those surviving are Peter, who resided with his parents; Robert, of Arkansas; Morris T., of Narrows, R. F. D. No. 2; Alvin, of Wisconsin; Ida, wife of John Forman, of Dundee; Frankie, wife of Willie Porter, of Grayson County; and Kate, wife of Anderson Davison, of Falls of Rough. He is also survived by his widow; one brother, Benjamin Gentry, of near Narrows; two sisters, Mrs. Cordelia Petty, of Narrows, and Mrs. Filura Barrett, of Barrett's Ferry.

He was one of Ohio County's best citizens and will be missed by the entire community.

After funeral services at Pleasant Grove Baptist church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. H. L. Jarboe, the body was laid to rest in the cemetery nearby, at 3 p. m. Wednesday.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY DINNER

A surprise dinner was given in honor of the seventy-fifth birthday of Rev. J. P. Carden at his home in Narrows by his children on Sunday, the 16th inst. A bountiful and appetizing repast was served and the occasion was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Rev. Carden is in excellent health despite his advanced years and was the recipient of many felicitations upon the occasion. The following children and their families spent the day with the patriarch and his good wife: Messrs. John and Ollie Carden, of Hartford; Herbert Carden, of Haynesville; and Vasco Carden, of Owensboro; and Mrs. A. B. Grant, of Pattieville. Mrs. Wilbert Wells, a granddaughter, and family, of Fordsville; a cousin, Mrs. Buel Wilkerson, of Falls-of-Rough, and a niece, Mrs. Hattie Grant, and son, of Pleasant Grove, were also present. On departing, after a happy day, they one and all wished for him many more such occasions.

BASKET BALL

A large crowd turned out Saturday afternoon to watch the Fordsville team trim the Lewisport boys in a hotly contested basket ball game. Although the visiting team put up a game fight, the home boys had no trouble in winning by a score of 16 to 3 over them.

The Hardinsburg boys play a return game with Fordsville on the latter's court Nov. 5th.

EXAMINATION RESULTS

The School Superintendent has received from the State Board of Examiners the grades of applicants here, Sept. 16th and 17th. The following made first class certificates: In the teachers examination held Misses Emily Bell, Ruth and Evelyn Forman and Mrs. Cecil Stone. Two made second class certificates and two failed. Two colored teachers who were examined on the same date made second class grades.

The McHenry school added $37.50 to its funds, Monday night, Oct. 17th by giving a concert. Rev. Carson Taylor, who was conducting a meeting there, and Miss Lillian Tichenor furnished the entertainment. The McHenry Masonic Lodge also donated $10 to the school.

About 35 cases of diphtheria have been reported to County Health officer Dr. E. B. Pendleton within the past month, but the epidemic seems to be dying down. It has been most prevalent in the Beaver Dam and Whitesville section. A few cases of scarlet fever have been reported.

EX-EMPEROR TRIES TO REGAIN THRONE

Flies From Switzerland in Airplane and Moves on Budapest With Army, But Is Captured.

Budapest, Oct. 22.—Charles I, former emperor of Austria, is engaged in his second coup d'etat with the object of reseating himself on the throne of Hungary. He has reached Raab, where royalists are gathering about the deposed king, ready to march with him and his army of 12,000 Oostenburg troops into the old capital, Budapest, 60 miles away.

After a sensational flight from Switzerland by airplane Thursday, accompanied by the former Empress Zita, he landed at or near Odenburg, which is under international control, and gained the renewed allegiance of the Hungarian troops.

From Odenburg, Charles and his army went to Raab, occupying the town and sending out calls for Count Bethlen, the Hungarian premier; Stephen Rakovsky, president of the national assembly; M. Beniczky, former minister of the interior, and other royalist sympathizers.

Rakovsky, Count Apponyi and Gustave Gratz have headed a legitimist cabinet at Raab and the royalists have taken possession of the public buildings at Steinamanger.

The Budapest government meanwhile has received protests from the allied representatives and Czechoslovakia and has sent royal government troops to serve notice on Charles that he must leave the country at once. There is a strong belief, however, not only in Hungary but in Austria as well, that Charles' second return has a better chance of success than his first.

It is said that the former king has been brought back through the efforts of Prince Windisch-Gratz and royalists who took hope from the success of the Portuguese revolution. It is understood that Count Andrássy, who is supporting Charles, has received assurances from Jugo-Slavia and Rumania that they would not offer resistance, as royalists must stick together against republican danger, and with such assurances, the Carlists assert that they do not fear the opposition of Czechoslovakia.

Adherents of the former Emperor are also organized in Austria, Slovakia and Croatia, and encouraging Charles to rally the West Hungarian troops and march on Budapest. Premier Bethlen is reported to have declared that he recognizes Charles as king of Hungary but that Charles must undertake, if he assumes the throne, not to accept the throne of another country.

Vienna, Oct. 22.—The three dominant Austrian parties today adopted a unanimous declaration opposing the restoration of Charles in this country under any conditions. Austria has sealed her eastern frontier, the socialists say and the former emperor would never return alive through that country. The leaders of the workmen declare that they are prepared to deal with Charles himself or any reactionary movement within Austria.

Budapest, Oct. 24.—Former Emperor Charles and former Empress Zita were captured today near Komorn and are now confined in the castle at Tata Tovaros, guarded by two commands of Government troops.

RESIDENCE BURNS

While young John Goodman and family, of near Rosine, were attending church at Salem, last Friday night, fire of unknown origin destroyed their residence and the entire contents. The fire started at about 7 o'clock. He carried no insurance. The loss is estimated at $800.00.

Miss Lelia Glenn, of Central City, was the guest of her parents, Judge and Mrs. J. S. Glenn, for a few hours Sunday afternoon.

PEACE TREATIES RATIFIED BY VOTE OF 65 TO 20

Ernst Votes With 51 Other Republicans For Pact; Stanley Joins 17 Democrats

Washington, Oct. 18.—The senate tonight ratified the treaty of peace with Germany with the reservations reported by the foreign relations committee.

The vote was sixty-six for ratification to twenty against, or eight more than the necessary two-thirds majority.

Soon afterwards the senate ratified the peace treaty with Austria by the same vote.

Another and similar peace treaty with Hungary also was ratified, completing the administration's immediate peace program, with the former Central powers.

Fourteen Democratic senators voted in favor of ratification and two Republican senators, Borah, of Idaho, and LaFollette, of Wisconsin, voted against it. A third Republican, Senator Norris, of Nebraska, who was absent on account of sickness, was paired against the treaty.

Senator Ernst, of Kentucky, voted with 51 other Republicans and fourteen Democrats for ratification of the German treaty, while Senator Stanley, Kentucky, joined seventeen other Democrats and two Republicans, Borah and LaFollette in voting against ratification.

With the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Knox, Pennsylvania, the total membership of the senate is ninety-five. Nine senators were paired. As follows: Two Democrats and four Republicans for and two Democrats and one Republican against ratification.

The senate action, completing the administration's immediate peace program, brought a full state of peace with the principal enemy powers. Remaining now only are the formal exchanges of ratification except in the case of the Hungarian treaty, as that government alone has yet to complete parliamentary action on the treaty.

Before final action was taken, a Democratic effort to substitute for the German treaty of Versailles with the twelve Lodge reservations was defeated and the foreign relations committee reservations prohibiting American membership on the allied reparations commission or any other international communication without the consent of congress were adopted.

FORMER OHIO COUNTIAN SUCCEDES IN MONTANA

Mrs. M. C. Murry, of this city, has received word of the death of her brother, Mr. Lorenza Duke, at Warm Springs, Montana. He was born in Ohio County, Ky., in 1884 and at the age 12 years moved to Illinois, where he lived until 1907, at which time he moved to South Dakota, where he married Miss Naomi Zeidler, Oct. 10th, 1908. They later removed to Harlowtown, Montana, where they resided for five years and then moved to Valler, Montana, which has been their home since that time.

For several months past, Mr. Duke had been in poor health and quite recently went with his family to Minnesota, where he rapidly recovered. He was again stricken with the fatal malady and died September 21st. He leaves a father, near Bell's Run, Ky; two sisters, Mr. W. W. McFarland, Williams, Montana, and Mrs. M. C. Murry, Hartford, Ky., besides his wife and three children. The remains were interred in Iroquois, South Dakota, after appropriate funeral services at which an immense crowd was present.

HEAD OF KENTUCKY MASONS SCORES KU KLUX KLAN

Louisville, Oct. 18.—Scoring of the Ku Klux Klan by Grand Master Fred Acker, of Paducah, and annual reports of the officers marked the opening of the three day meeting of the Grand Lodge of Masons of Kentucky here today. Mr. Acker discouraged Masons joining the Ku Klux Klan, saying:

"We should stand behind the legally constituted and elected officers of the nation, state and municipality in seeing that law and order prevails."

WOMAN SWATTING FLY, DISLOCATES SHOULDER

Noblesville, Ind., Oct. 18.—Mrs. J. D. Meloy, of this city, is carrying her arm in a sling. She was swatting flies in her home today and in striking at one missed the object of attack and dislocated her shoulder.

CAPITOL CULLINGS

Washington, Oct. 22.—The threatened split in the Republican party in Congress, told of in this correspondence last week, has been temporarily averted by the surrender by the Old Guard reactionaries to the Progressive Republicans in the matter of amendments to the Tax bill, out of which the Democrats gain a decisive victory by reason of the fact that they first drafted and presented the amendments in the Senate which the Republican Progressives compelled the Republican reactionaries to accept.

This incident has most clearly revealed that the differences within the Republican party are as fundamental and irreconcilable as they were in 1912. The compromise on the tax bill is a temporary expedient and does not permanently heal the breach. The question which now confronts the Old Guard reactionaries of the Senate is whether they will continue to surrender to the Progressives on other pending legislation, thus deserting their predatory corporation and financial allies, or whether they will refuse to yield further and thus bring about a coalition between the Democrats and Progressive Republicans, resulting in an overthrow of the administration's reactionary legislative programme.

The history of the clash resulting in the surrender of the Old Guard and a Democratic victory is worthy of permanent record and is as follows:

Senator Simmons (Dem., N. C.) former Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, on September 30, presented in the Senate the Democratic amendments to the Tax bill, set forth in detail in this correspondence last week, the substance of which was to restore certain taxes which had been taken off corporations and the millionaire class, to prevent the repeal of others and to repeal the transportation tax. These amendments were adopted in substance at a conference of Progressive Republicans, who served notice on the reactionaries that they would insist upon their acceptance by the Senate Finance Committee. By a 5 to 4 vote the reactionary Republicans of the Senate Finance Committee accepted the amendments, which, it is generally conceded, will improve the Tax bill, without removing all of its iniquities.

The benefits to the average taxpayer resulting therefrom will be due to Democratic initiative and to Progressive Republican teamwork. The amendments are exactly in keeping with the Democratic promise at the beginning of this session of Congress to be helpful and constructive in all legislation.

Progressive West Again in the Saddle

All the indications are at this writing that the progressive West is again in the saddle as it was in 1912. The differences within the Republican party then are the difference within that party now. It is the Old Guard reactionary group, dominated by predatory corporate and financial interests, seeking only special privileges, against the liberal and progressive element representing the great producing section of the West.

Of the 60 Republicans in the Senate 33 are from the West, and it is therefore apparent that if the progressive West will stand together, it can, with Democratic assistance change the whole trend of legislation at this session from reactionary to progressive. Whether the Progressives will retain the advantage they have gained will be demonstrated later when the Railroad Loan Bill of $500,000,000 comes up, together with the War Loan Funding Bill, a most sinister reactionary and hitherto unheard of piece of legislation, in that it confers upon the Secretary of the Treasury sole power to do as he pleases with $11,000,000,000 of war loan debts, and the absurd Fordney Tariff bill in the interest of the manufacturing class and detrimental to agricultural interests generally; also when the conference shall take place on the pending Tax bill. This much now seems certain. Either the Old Guard must go on surrendering or the Progressive Republican element of the West must again submit to be cajoled and fooled if the party is to be held together.

The Progressive Republicans have taken a long time to assert themselves. They have permitted not only the interests of the West to suffer but the whole nation as well for the last three years as a result of their reconciliation with the Old Guard reactionary element.

If they shall again desert the great agricultural interests of the West for party and partisan advantage through that unholy alliance the logical result will be that they will forfeit the confidence of their own section and whatever advantage they may win in the meantime.

DRUNK, CUTS WIFE'S THROAT

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Alexander Stuart Ross, wealthy bond broker, cut his wife's throat during a quarrel in his room at the Congress Hotel over a $4,000 check. Ross had been drinking moonshine. Mrs. Ross ran from the room and down the hallway, falling to the floor near an elevator shaft. A maid nearby telephoned the police. At St. Luke's Hospital it was said that Mrs. Ross might live.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross had been living apart.

She knew I had just completed a deal in Texas Granite lands," Ross said. "I had a check for $4,000. I offered all but $800 to her. She wanted the check."

"We had an argument in the room. I wouldn't give the check to her. She went into the bathroom and got a razor. She is a big woman. She threatened to kill me."

"I was drunk and sleepy. I reclined on the bed, but she wouldn't let me sleep. I took the razor away from her and put it under my pillow. She recovered it and threatened me again. I grew angry. I got up and hit her. She fell on the floor—I got the razor!"

"And while she lay on the floor you slashed her throat with the razor?" he was asked.

"That's the way it happened," he said.

ROBERT FREY DIES AT HOPKINSVILLE

Robert Frey, age 70, for many years an attorney and real estate died at the Western State hospital at Hopkinsville on Tuesday night of a complication of diseases. He was committed to Hopkinsville only a few days ago, after having spent several weeks in the hospital here, caused by his mind becoming deranged.

The deceased was born in Owensboro and was the son of Squire W. H. and Mrs. Frey, deceased. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. J. W. Koontz, of Greenville, Ky., who will arrive in the city to attend the funeral. Another sister, now deceased, was the wife of Lawson Reno. Mr. Frey had been for many years, one of the best known figures around town and had many friends.

FLOUR HITS $7 MARK;
FIRST TIME IN 6 YEARS

Minneapolis, Oct. 19.—Following yesterday's decline in the wheat market flour broke to new low levels here today, touching the $7.00 a barrel mark for the first time in about six years. Mills posted prices of $7@7.15 a barrel for family patents, a reduction of 40 to 55 cents from yesterday's range.

Of a Particular Kind
"I wish you wouldn't try to sell an airship to my husband," said a lady to an aeroplane agent.
"Why not, madam?"
"Because he is not to be trusted with one."
"But, madam," expostulated the agent, "our planes are all what we call foolproof."
"Perhaps," retorted the wife wearily, "but you don't know my husband."

LEADERSHIP TRAINING SCHOOL FOR THIS SECTION

A five-day Leadership Training School will be held in the Owensboro Christian Church, November 7 to 11, 1921, under the auspices of the Kentucky Christian Bible School Association, N. K. McGowan, Superintendent, Louisville, Ky. The sessions will be held each day from 3:45 to 9:30 p. m. The morning and early afternoon are left open for rest, study and special conferences.

This school is for the benefit of all those ministers and church officers who are interested in religious education, and desire the best plans and methods; for Bible School superintendents, officers and teachers who are willing to study to make their work more effective; for Christian Endeavor officers and workers who are eager to learn how to make their societies bigger and better; for prospective teachers and officers, and all who are desirous of rendering a larger service.

The courses offered in this school will be: three teacher training units, one course on missionary methods, one series of lectures on the Bible, a group of special lectures, and three divisional specialization courses for Elementary, Secondary and Adult workers. Each student will choose and complete one of the Teacher Training units and will receive full and regular credit for this unit toward the Teacher Training Diploma. Certificates will be issued to all who take notes on twenty-five lectures including one complete Divisional Course.

The Faculty will consist of: Geo. V. Moore, Associate State Superintendent, who will act as Dean of the school; W. G. Loucks, Ohio State Superintendent of Bible Schools; Miss Ida May Irvin, St. Louis, Mo.; Rev. Milo Atkinson, Owensboro, and Rev. J. T. Sullivan, Louisville, Ky. Local pastors will assist in the daily devotional periods.

An enrollment fee of one dollar will be charged all who take the course. The local church will entertain outside delegates to the school for lodging and breakfast. A large attendance is expected.

PEOPLE OF OUR TOWN

The Loafer hasn't done a lick of work since the famous "Work or Fight" order, when he shouldered a dinner-bucket and rallied to the shipyards. The Loafer was just naturally born tired and he's still holding his own. Besides that, he makes everybody else tired!

SCREENED FROM VULGAR EYES

Only a Short Time Ago the Japanese Emperor and His Heir Lived Lives Apart.

There must be many Japanese still living who can remember when their countrymen would have regarded with horror the manner in which the crown prince allows himself to be gazed upon by foreign crowds.

So late as 1867 no Japanese was allowed to look upon the emperor, who lived a life apart in the seclusion of his palace. All that was seen of him by those who waited on his commands was his back. When the rule was first modified to the extent of his leaving the palace, all shutters had to be put up, all blinds drawn, and even the crevices covered with paper, and no one was permitted in the streets.

Vast changes have taken place since then, but even today it is not considered quite proper and respectful by the masses of the people to look at the emperor or his heir when they drive through the streets.

HAVE NEED OF MUCH FOOD

Voracious Appetites of Growing Boys Are Natural and Not to Be Wondered At.

Dr. E. F. Du Bois made extensive studies a few years ago on the food requirements of growing boys, and found that they needed about 25 per cent more than grown men, weight for weight. Now Drs. F. G. Benedict and Mary F. Hendry have made similar studies on girls between twelve and seventeen years of age. These correspond in their results with those made by Dr. Du Bois.

The Journal of the American Medical Association comments that considered in connection with the usually lively muscular activities of children, which call for liberal expenditure of energy, the facts ascertained explain and justify the large appetites of growing boys.

No One Would Have It.

An inbound Pawtucket electric had reached the white post near Steeple street. The conductor signaled for the car to stop, and sliding the door, looked into the car expectantly. Nobody budged.

"Tunnel, tunnel! Doesn't someone want the tunnel?" he exclaimed.

The silence was broken by an elderly man, who softly replied, "Keep it, my good man. Nobody here wants the tunnel."

Everybody in the car tittered. The conductor signaled the car to proceed, but said nothing; not even when a drunken man in the vestibule asked him why he was so blamed generous with railroad property.—Providence Journal.

For Vienna's Needy.

In order to aid the hungry people of Vienna a land-colonization plan has been devised by a practical man, Peter Weston, and approved in principle by the three leading political parties and government officials. It would set up a central administrative bureau to acquire and distribute land and provide building material for standardized homes. The colony is to be established near Vienna, and each house is to have a garden of at least 500 square meters, while larger farm holdings also form part of the plan, for the execution of which the state is asked to appropriate 10,000,000,000 crowns. The scheme is now under consideration by the government.

Plan Big Experiment.

The New South Wales Textile Workers' union, writes Trade Commissioner A. W. Ferrin, has proposed to convert the old Parramatta jail buildings into woolen mills and to establish a company to be known as the Co-operative Woolen Mills with a capital of £200,000 ($972,000). It is intended to manufacture the whole of the woolen goods required by the government, to be ultimately converted into clothing for the police force and other government employees.

Mad All Over.

"What good does it do you to shake your fist at that disappearing motorist and call him hard names? He can't see or hear you."

"Maybe not," said the wrathful pedestrian, "but I hoped there might be a relative of his among the spectators who would take up the quarrel. I'm mad enough to punch anybody who's kin to him, if he's only a second cousin."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Young Rascals.

FIND DIAMONDS IN ARKANSAS

Largest Stone Ever Discovered, 'in Place,' Was Drawn From the Mud of Pike County.

Most of the world's diamonds come from a greenish-gray volcanic rock called peridotite, found principally in South Africa, but the largest stone ever found "in place" in the United States came from the black gumbo mud of Arkansas. Down in Pike county geologists discovered the largest "pipe" of peridotite in the world, larger in circumference than the famous Kimberley pipe and of unknown depth. Covering the mouth of the pipe was a layer of heavy gumbo clay, perpetually wet and sticky, defiant alike to the tools of agriculture and mining.

Owing to the disintegration of the surface soil and the action of the weather during many centuries this layer of gumbo was found to hold diamonds. But nobody ever mined diamonds from mud before. The history of diamond mining in India, and South Africa contained no reference to extracting gems from such material, and the American mining engineers had a brand-new problem on their hands. They tried putting the gumbo through a Hardinge mill, a contrivance resembling a rotary concrete mixer, with small granite blocks tumbling over each other and crushing whatever kind of rock or earth it poured in at the top. But the gumbo wouldn't respond. They tried reducing it with streams of water, but the gumbo formed sticky black balls that wouldn't disintegrate.

Finally after much experiment they found a solution. They poured the damp clay into a revolving cast-iron cylinder, and by means of a strong draught forced flames through the tumbling mass. Thoroughly dried by the intense heat, with the result that it slaked like quicklime and became a thin paste, with all its stickiness and obstinacy gone.

It was by this process that a 17-carat canary fragment was taken from the Arkansas mine.

He Qualified.

In a hotel one day a party of Americans were dining. One very conspicuous young man, much given to bragging, had for nearly half an hour been boasting of the clever things he could do.

At last one of the party, bored with listening, jumped to his feet. "Hang it all, man!" he drawled out. "We've heard quite enough of what you can do. Tell us something that you cannot do, and I guess I'll undertake to do it for you!"

"Very well," replied the smart one. "I cannot pay the bill which has just been put before me."

And the other had to pay up, much to the amusement of his friends.—London Answers.

Better Style.

He was an old man whose greatest pride was his long flowing beard. But with the coming of summer in an attempt to keep his chin and neck cool he had braided it and with a safety pin fastened the extreme end of it in his shirt pocket. Every one at the interurban station was watching him closely when Mrs. T. and six-year-old Freddy came in.

For a long time Freddy simply stared at the old man, so different looking from any man he had seen. And after a time he edged over to him. "Mister," he whispered kindly, "most everybody else is bobbing their beards in Indianapolis."—Indianapolis News.

Daddy's Usual Time.

Mother was entertaining a few friends, and her young hopeful was planted in the center.

"Whom do you like best?" asked one friend.

"Mother," was the reply.

"Who next?" asked another.

"My little sister."

"Who next?"

"Uncle Jack."

Father asked: "And when do I come in?" "At two in the morning," was the reply.

Playgrounds for Berkeley.

Berkeley, Cal., is now acquiring, through the board of education, the playgrounds needed in practically every school district of the city, as the result of the $2,300,000 bond issue voted in 1919. The city has acquired for $300,000 the high school recreation building and site in the center of the city as recommended by the city planning commission. The playground commission will operate all school playgrounds.

Comforting.

"Will this stuff kill me?" asked the suspicious customer.

"I hope not," said the affable bootlegger, "but if it does there will be no reflection on you or the members of your family."

"How's that?"

"I stand in with the coroner. He'll return a verdict of death from natural causes."

Beneath Him.

"But didn't Opportunity ever knock at your door?"

"Probably."

"And you didn't answer it?"

"I? Certainly not! What do you think the servants are for?"—Boston Transcript.

Nice Job.

She—I have invented a face powder that can't be kissed off.

He—That so. How about putting me in charge of your proving grounds?—Boston Transcript.

The assessed valuation of farm land in Ohio County has more than doubled within the last four years.
It was increased by more than a half million dollars for the fiscal year of 1921 over that of 1920. The county revenue for general purposes for 1921 will be nearly twice the amount collected for that purpose in 1917.

Have the public roads of the county been improved 100 per cent in the last four years? Has the county debt been reduced proportionately?

Ohio County taxpayers now know the definition of "watered stock." It is the interest the Fiscal Court has obtained for them in the local light and water company.

We extend to I. D. Claire the tribute of a novice to one grown silver-haired in a common service, our appreciation of a bit of work, artistry and gracefulness done, and infused with the spirit of human kindness.
For such, in our opinion, was his tribute to an humble but faithful colored servant and friend.

The Hartford Republican "shore do have more trouble than anybody."
Last week it floundered and blundered into charging that its pet, the local light and power company, had put over an electric light "graft" on the City of Hartford. Oh, surely not!
The life-line thrown out by the Fiscal Court is surely enough.

Three little "Democratic evidences"
troited out in review;
One kicked over the traces, then there were two.

Two little "Democratic evidences"
to show what Slack's done;
One died of old age, then there was one.

One little "Democratic evidence"
when its "do was done"
Was found to be a mugwump; then there was none.

Question: What is a non-partisan?
A non-partisan is an individual who is nominated by a party, goes on the ballot as a party nominee and if he is elected, makes all his appointments to positions which are worth while financially from the members of his own party.
At least we presume that is Judge Slack's definition. He can't fool the voters for they know that the Master Commissioner and Trustee of the Jury Fund in every county in the district are Republicans and that he appointed each and every one.

Three weeks ago the Republican's anonymous magisterial correspondent was claiming credit for the establishment and maintenance of the Hartford ladies' rest room. Last week our contemporary was trying to make a campaign issue out of the statement that the Hartford city council "willingly accepts free water for the ladies' rest room which this company, (Kentucky Light & Power Co.) furnishes gratis." Now who really did kill that bear? Guess again, brother, pausing to drop a tear upon the bier of another claim of accomplishment of the "waterlogged" squire.

You lose. Here it is:
"Any voter can move toward keeping judges out of politics by declining to vote for any candidate for a judgeship because he is a Republican or a Democrat; by declining to vote to remove any Judge whose record is good and who is opposed by a candidate who is not his superior."
—Courier-Journal.

But in this district the suffrage of a large majority of the voters will be exercised to put George S. Wilson on the circuit bench because, judging from his accomplishments and qualifications, they believe he is "superior" to an opponent whose record is only fifty per cent "good."

After Seeing Harding, Cummins Says U. S. Has Power To Run Trains

Washington, Oct. 21.—That the people and if it were continued trains of the country, both freight and passenger, will continue in all the business cease, but people operation after Oct. 30, strike or no strike, if the Government has to take possession of the railroads, was the prediction made by Chairman Cummins (Rep., Ia.) of the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce in an interview.

Senator Cummins has been in daily conference with President Harding on the situation. He was careful to state that his views could not be construed as reflecting the views or purposes of the Administration or as indicating what it contemplated doing to meet the strike danger. He was simply saying what could be done. He is very hopeful, moreover, that a discussion of the trouble may avert it.

Railroad operators and employees are jointly responsible for the present emergency, according to the Senator. He criticized them for disregarding the Railway Labor Board, which was created by the Esch-Cummins act.

Labor Board in Disfavor

In this connection Senator Cummins said there are movements afoot to abolish entirely the Railroad Labor Board or transfer its functions to the Interstate Commerce Commission, which deals with rate matters because of the close relationship between rates and wages. The proposed legislation, however, cannot be considered prior to the date set for the strike.

"It is absolutely necessary that this country shall have transportation," the Senator said. "A very few days of general cessation of the movement of the trains would inflict a great deal of hardship upon

If the strike is as general as it is proposed it shall be, I assume that the railroads would endeavor to find enough men to move the trains to keep the people of the urban communities from starving or freezing and do the best they could to move traffic in commerce.

Where United States Comes In
"It would then become the duty of the Government to protect from any interference whatever the men engaged in moving these trains, and I have no doubt the Government would do it effectively and completely."

"If after a trial it was found that the railroad companies could not get the men necessary to run the trains there would be but one thing to do—the Government would have to take possession of the railroads and move the trains, and I have no doubt that it could do it."

"We have authority to use the forces of the United States to preserve order, just as we did in West Virginia."

Mr. Cummins was asked what would happen if men could not be secured by the railroads. He replied:

"Then, if the Government has not the power now to take possession of the railroads to render this absolutely necessary service, in my opinion, it would be given that power immediately. I think it has the power now—the inherent power—but specifically under the act of 1916, the same act under which they were taken over on Jan. 1, 1918. The act is not limited to war."

FRED W. HARDWICK IS HEAD OF MASONS OF KY.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 19.—Louisville Masons were honored in the election of officers today by the Grand Lodge of Masons of Kentucky. Fred W. Hardwick, was elected grand master, Major John H. Leathers was re-elected grand treasurer for the thirty-second time, Dave Jackson was re-elected grand secretary.

The custom of advancing officers was adhered to. Other officers elected were:

Deputy Grand Master, E. E. Nelson, Williamsburg; Grand Senior Warden, A. E. Orton, Dawson Springs.

G. Allison Holland, Lexington chairman of the $1,000,000 home committee, in his report recommended that the new Masonic Widows and Orphans home be erected in the country on a large tract, but suggested no specific site or system. Pierce Browning, Maysville, gave the report on higher education for wards of the orphans' home, showing that forty-seven children graduated from the home are now pursuing college courses.

FIRE DESTROYS ELEVEN STORES IN BURKESVILLE

Burkesville, Ky., Oct. 20.—The explosion of an oil stove at the poultry store of George B. Davis here at 11:30 o'clock resulted in a fire which wiped out one-quarter of the principal business block of the city, entailing damage estimated at $35,000. Eleven frame business houses were consumed by the flames. The fire destroyed that part of the block extending from and including the Simpson Store and the Baker Hotel. It raged for several hours before a bucket brigade finally succeeded in quenching the flames.

A motion picture theater, Masonic Hall and the Cumberland County Bank building were among those destroyed. Most of the furniture was saved from the Baker Hotel. No one was hurt, although many persons fought the fire and carried articles from places in the path of the blaze. Practically all of the fowls in the poultry store, where the stove exploded were burned up.

MAN DENIES ASSAULT ON LITTLE LEXINGTON GIRL

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 19.—Harry L. Mitchell, aged 55, of Lexington, who was brought here last night for safekeeping after an 11-year-old girl had charged that he assaulted her, still was in the reformatory tonight. Officials here had no intention taken to Lexington for a preliminary hearing.

Mitchell was permitted today to see his son, William, who is his partner in a real estate business which they operate in Paris, and his attorneys, although others were denied admission to the prison. His attorneys after leaving the prison, said that Mitchell told them he did not know the little girl even by sight and that the only times he had ever been in the park where the alleged assault occurred was when he took his little adopted son there.

Mitchell, the attorneys said, formerly was a Louisville and Nashville railroad conductor and several years ago was seriously hurt. He was forced to retire and of late years had been operating a real estate business in Paris with his son. Several months ago he moved to Lexington although he kept his office in Paris and made frequent trips there.

CATAPULTS FOR NAVY TO SEND AIRPLANES UP

Washington, Oct. 16.—The navy will shortly install on one of its modern battleships a complete catapult unit for the launching of airplanes. This is designed to give a plane the "flying speed" it requires before it takes the air.

After much experimentation naval experts believe the catapult is the answer to the problem of successfully launching planes from surface craft. The catapult has been under development for several years. "The catapult," says Secretary Denby in a statement issued tonight, "consists of a carriage moving on tracks. On this carriage is mounted an airplane. By means of the motive plant used the carriage is caused to move on the tracks at an increasing acceleration until, near the end of the tracks, its speed is sufficient to permit the airplane to take the air. Then the carriage is brought to rest."

FORMER KING OF BAVARIA IS DEAD

London, Oct. 18.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Vienna today stated that a report has been received there of the death of Ludwig III., former king of Bavaria, at Sarvar castle, in Hungary. Owing to the Burgenland trouble in Hungary, telegraphing is virtually suspended from that country, and it is difficult to obtain authoritative information of events occurring there.

A Reuter dispatch from Budapest says Ludwig died today.

Ludwig III., a picturesque figure in Europe for three-quarters of a century, renounced his throne as king of Bavaria on November 16, 1916, having held it a scant three years. Disaster broke heavily on the venerable ruler, as his wife, Maria Theresa, who was princess royal of Hungary and Bohemia, died on the same day.

After his abdication, Ludwig fled to Switzerland and later to the Austrian Tyrol. In March, 1919, he received permission of the Swiss government to reside at Zizers and thitherto he went a few days later. He remained nearly a year in Switzerland, where life's vicissitudes in virtual exile and in financial distress is said to have threatened his sanity. He was severely ill for several months and once was erroneously reported dead.

On December 22, 1920, Ludwig returned to Wildenwart, Southern Bavaria, where he remained most of the time since. Bavarian royalists held a monster demonstration on the occasion of the seventy-sixth anniversary of his birth last January 7.

MRS. ANN C. TANNER AGED AND HIGHLY RESPECTED WOMAN DIES

Mrs. Ann C. Tanner, a highly respected and greatly beloved resident of this city, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Minnie B. Read at 12:05 o'clock Wednesday morning. Mrs. Tanner was in her 84th year, having been born in May, 1838, and was a daughter of Dr. John G. Speer one of the pioneer physicians of this county. She was married to Jonathan C. Tanner in January, 1860, and resided with him for nearly fifty years near Livia, in McLean county. Mrs. Tanner was a consistent member of the Baptist church for about sixty years, having been a member of the Buck Creek Baptist church most of that time.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Minnie B. Read, of Owensboro; Mrs. Mary Stephens and Miss Julia Tanner, of Florida, and one son, Lawrence P. Tanner, of Owensboro.

The funeral services were conducted from the Buck Creek Baptist church at 10 o'clock Thursday morning.—Owensboro Messenger

Mrs. Tanner had many relatives and friends in this county who will be grieved to hear of her death.

BERGDOLL PAPERS ARE STOLEN FROM JOHNSON'S OFFICE

Washington, Oct. 18.—Nearly a thousand copies of a house committee report on the escape of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the draft dodger and a big wooden box containing certain Bergdoll documents, together with many private letters and papers were stolen last night from the office of Representative Ben Johnson, Democrat, Kentucky.

The theft of the reports, written by Mr. Johnson and printed at his own expense, was not discovered until late today while the Washington police were still trying to get on the trail of the thieves by examination of finger prints on the window panes one of which was partially removed. The thieves made no attempt to steal articles of pecuniary value and the room was not ransacked.

GETTING BOATS READY IN ANTICIPATION OF STRIKE

Wheeling, W. Va., Oct. 18.—Inland waterways transportation companies operating on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers are rushing to completion repairs on all steamboats not already in commission, in anticipation of railroad men walking out, it was announced last night at the offices of the Liberty Transit company and the Shippers' Packet company here.

It was estimated that at least 100 additional boats now in harbor or on the docks will be in active service before the time set for the railroad men to strike.

TEST RAIL SUITS SEEK MILLIONS

Washington, Oct. 19.—Three test cases brought by the World Publishing Company, the Democrat Printing Company and the Tulsa Paper Company, all of Tulsa, Okla., to recover judgments against the United States on awards made by the Interstate Commerce Commission were tried today in the Court of Claims.

Should the claimants in the suits be successful it will open the doors of the court to suits based on 11,000 awards, involving an aggregate amount estimated at between $50,000,000 and $100,000,000.

The plaintiffs allege they were compelled by the Director General of Railroads to pay unreasonable and discriminatory freight rates and that they were entitled to recover the difference between the amount so paid and the amount which the Interstate Commerce Commission fixed as reasonable.

The Railroad Administration contested the claims on the ground that the provisions of the Federal Railroad Control Act preclude the bringing of suits against the United States and the obtaining of judgments in the Court of Claims.

"BLOODLESS SURGERY" ON FACE NOW USED

Philadelphia, Oct. 19.—Use of "bloodless surgery" on the face was described in papers read today before the convention of the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology.

Radium needles are among the instruments used in this work, as explained by Dr. E. B. Hecks and Dr. William B. Clark, Pittsburgh.

With them, according to the doctors, birth marks, tumors and other malignant growths may be made to disappear.

HERRICK'S PARIS HOME DAMAGED BY BOMB BLAST

Paris, Oct. 19.—A bomb exploded today in the house of Myron T. Herrick, the American Ambassador, seriously injuring the valet who opened the package containing it.

The room in which the explosion occurred was wrecked.

Ambassador Herrick arrived at the house two minutes after the bomb blew up.

The receipt of the bomb followed threatening letters which have been coming to the Ambassador in the last few days in connection with the case of two Italians recently convicted of murder in Massachusetts.

750 PLANES AVAILABLE IN EVENT OF STRIKE

New York, Oct. 18.—At least 750 commercial aircraft are available throughout the country for transporting passengers, mail and express in the event of a railroad strike, the Manufacturers' Aircraft association has informed Secretary Hoover in a telegram. The craft carry from two to twelve persons or their equivalent in weight and have a nonstop range of flight from 20 to 800 miles.

One commercial company here has placed twenty-three planes at the disposal of Mayor Hylan, estimating that they could bring 250,000 pounds of foodstuffs into New York daily.

MYSTERIOUS PAINS AND ACHES

Make Life Hard to Bear For Many Hartford Women

Too many women mistake their pains and aches for troubles peculiar to the sex. More often disordered kidneys are causing the aching back, dizzy spells, headaches and irregular urination. Kidney weakness becomes dangerous if neglected. Use a time-tested kidney remedy—Doan's Kidney Pills. Hosts of people testify to their merit. Ask your neighbors? Read a Hartford case:

Mrs. Rosa B. Bear, Bonner St. says: "I suffered with pains in my hips and back. The doctor said it was rheumatism and I took medicine without benefit. Someone advised me to take Doan's Kidney Pills and I used two boxes and was cured. Later I had another attack when my kidneys became weak and irregular. I was lame in the muscles of my arms and across my hips and suffered great pain, every move I made. When I stooped over, I could hardly straighten up. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at the Ohio County Drug Co., cured me of both attacks and I certainly have a good word for them."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Bear had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Purify League member approached a street gamin who was puffing industriously at the quarter-inch remains of what had once been a cigarette.

"My lad," she inquired, "don't you know that cigarettes will poison you?"

"Nah, lady," retorted the gamin. "I'm a careful guy. I only tackles those that other people have tried first."

Hopkins Farmers Plan For Feature Farm Fair

With all plans practically completed the Hopkins County Agricultural Fair and Exposition to be held at Madisonville the week of Oct. 17 to 22 is expected to be even more elaborate than the first one held last year, according to reports coming from the county. The show will be held under the auspices of the Madisonville Chamber of Commerce which is co-operating with County Agent Morris Gordon, Hopkins County farmers and interested organizations in promoting the agricultural and stock breeding interests of the county.

Classes have been provided for colts, garden and orchard products, grains, needlework, canned goods, poultry, cattle, sheep and hogs. The poultry show which will be held by the county poultry association is expected to be one of the features of the fair. The auction sale of 250 White Wyandotte pullets on the last day of the fair is expected to be another feature of the event. The sale will be one of 21 to be held under the direction of the College of Agriculture as a part of the poultry standardization campaign being conducted over the State. Farmers who received hatching eggs in the spring through the co-operation of their county banks will return one pullet for each setting of eggs to pay for them.

Winter Course To Have Farm Economics Studies

Busy farm men and boys who enroll for the winter short course which opens Oct. 31 at the College of Agriculture will be given special training in the management of the farm for profit, according to present plans for the farm economics line of studies being made by those in charge of the course. Studies will be made in this subject in agricultural economics, farm management, marketing and co-operative marketing.

The farmer's relation to society and its institutions, the management of the farm so that it will pay the largest total profit year after year, principles and conditions underlying the marketing of farm products and farmers' co-operative marketing organizations will be given special attention in the course. Instruction will be given by members of the College of Agriculture faculty. The course will end Feb. 25, 1922 with Christmas holidays from Dec. 16 to Jan. 2. The first term will consist of the seven weeks before the holidays and the second of the eight weeks following the holidays.

October Is Final Month For Sowing Cover Crops

October is the final month during which farmers who wish to protect their fields during the winter can sow cover crops, according to R. E. Stephenson, soils extension specialist from the College of Agriculture. Many farmers have already realized the value of such crops and seeded their fields with them, reports from more than 50 Kentucky counties indicating that the acreage of such crops will be increased from one-third to one-fourth more than that of last year. Rye which has proved to be the most popular crop for this purpose up to the present time can be seeded later than any of the others recommended for cover crops, Dr. Stephenson said.

In sowing cover crops farmers are coping successfully with the largest single soil management problem which they have, Mr. Stephenson said. This problem is the conservation of plant food and the prevention of leaching and erosion. Regardless of leaching and erosion cover crops are profitable ones in view of their green manure and pasture value. Many Kentucky farmers will be compelled to sow cover crops this fall if they wish to keep their farms up to a high state of production since their fields are in such condition that in a few years they will be gullied and leached beyond redemption, Mr. Stephenson said.

Grain Fed Now Boosts Fall Milk Production

Successful feeding of dairy cattle during the fall of the year requires the use of grain in addition to what pastures may still exist, dairy specialists say. A feed composed of four parts of corn meal, two parts of wheat bran and two parts of cottonseed meal all mixed by weight and fed at the rate of one pound for every three and one-half pounds of milk that the cow produces each day is giving good results at the College of Agriculture farm as a fall grain feed. If the cow is yielding two gallons or about 17 pounds of milk daily she should receive five or six pounds of dry grain each day. If the pasture is not abundant it will be necessary to feed from five to ten pounds of good clover hay in addition to the grain.

Winter Dairying Offers Means Of Greater Profits

Greater production of dairy products during the winter months by breeding cows to produce their calves in the fall rather than in the spring as is now the case on many farms offers Kentucky farmers an excellent opportunity for increasing the profits from this phase of their business, according to J. J. Hooper, the College of Agriculture. At the present time Kentucky farmers are producing about 70 per cent of their dairy products between May 1 and November 1 and the remaining 30 per cent during the six winter months, according to Mr. Hooper. This condition should be revised or at least equalized if the greatest profits possible are to be expected from the dairy business, he said.

A maximum production of milk during the winter months will make it possible for farmers to realize the greatest profit from their dairies since all dairy products bring the highest price during that season of the year. Labor also is cheaper and time more plentiful in which to care for the cow and her calf. The fact that a calf born in the fall will make greater growth during the year, if given the proper attention, than one that is born in the spring is another advantage in favor of winter dairying.

To have cows produce their calves at the proper time in the fall they should be bred in mid-winter, since, breeding them during the early fall will cause them to freshen during the spring. The cow that freshens in the spring will lag in production when the drouth of summer arrives and will begin to dry off in the fall after she has been milking about six months. On the other hand the cow that is fresh in the fall will be stimulated by the calf to give her greatest flow of milk during the winter months when she is fed on silage and grain. She will be stimulated again to a greater production in the summer when pastures are at their best. The cow that freshens in the fall will produce 25 per cent more milk during the year than one that freshens during the spring because of these conditions, Mr. Hooper said.

Dehorned Cattle Most Profitable

Farmers who wish to realize the greatest profit from their cattle will do well to dehorn them while they are calves, according to suggestions made by animal husbandry specialists at the College of Agriculture. Dehorned steers are worth about 50 cents more a hundred pounds as feeders, will make more rapid gains in the feedlot and lose less weight in being shipped to the market. Dairy cows also are less liable to injure one another when they have their horns removed. This is the best time of the year to dehorn old cattle, conditions being most favorable after the first frosts when flies have disappeared. Calves may be dehorned any time during the year, the best time being when they are about one week old.

"A stick of caustic potash is the only thing needed to remove the horns from calves," Wayland Rhoads, extension specialist in beef cattle said. "The hair should be clipped from over the horn button and a small ring of grease rubbed around it about one-half inch from the base of the horn to prevent the caustic from running. The stick of caustic should be wrapped in paper to prevent its burning the hands of the person using it. The end should be moistened and then rubbed on the button until it becomes tender, about one-half minute being the amount of time necessary. A scab will later form and drop off leaving the head smooth. The calves should be kept out of the rain for a few days as the caustic dissolves when it becomes wet and may give trouble."

"The easiest way to remove horns from older animals is to use a set of large dehorning shears or a saw. The saw is sometimes preferable in case the horns are brittle since there is no danger of crushing them. Care should be taken to see that the instrument used is clean. It is preferable to remove the horns close enough to the head to remove a small ring of hair. This is the easiest place to cut the horn and also the best since the head heals rapidly and no stubs are left. The animal's head should be held secure either in stocks or held to a strong bar or post with a lopped rope placed around the head. Immediately after the operation is completed it is well to cover the head where the horns were removed with pine tar. In case of excessive bleeding tannic acid or pulverized boric acid should be applied."

Farm And Home News From Over Kentucky

Many Graves county fields will be well protected from leaching and erosion during the coming winter as a result of the increased acreage of cover crops which has been sown, according to a report of County Agent B. H. Mitchell. More than 800 bushels of Rosen rye have been distributed to be used for cover crops and this together with a normal acreage of wheat and a 200 per cent increase in the acreage of sweet clover which will be sown is expected to result in more protection to fields of the county than has ever been the case.

Limestone is receiving special attention from Owen county farmers, a report from County Agent David P. Morris states. More than 600 tons of this material have been crushed in the county as a result of a lime campaign while six farmers will co-operate in conducting demonstrations to show its value in increasing crop yields.

Carroll county farmers are gradually eliminating the scrub breeding animals from their farms, seven more of them recently having been enrolled in the better sires-better stock movement by County Agent G. C. Routt. They have agreed to use nothing but purebred animals in all their breeding work.

Marion county farmers co-operating with County Agent H. J. Childress are making plans for a two-day poultry show to be held Nov. 7 and 8. More than $140 in premiums have already been offered by interested banks and commercial concerns in the county. At least 200 birds are expected to be on exhibit.

Members of the Washington County Poultry Association are making plans for one of the most successful years they have ever had, a report from County Agent R. M. Heath states. They recently purchased 10 Barred Plymouth Rock chickens, including six cockerels and four pullets, for $125.

Ashland wheat, the pedigreed variety developed at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station has proved popular with Marion county farmers this fall, nine of them having purchased a total of more than 127 bushels, according to a report of County Agent H. J. Childress. Each of the nine men used acid phosphate in connection with the sowing of the new variety.

Hen House Work Lessened By Making Advance Plans

Much of the care which must be given poultry flocks during disagreeable winter weather can be made easy and the comfort of the flock insured during that season of the year if farmers will complete all building, remodeling and repairing of poultry houses during the next few weeks so that the hens and pullets can be settled in their winter homes before they start laying, according to J. R. Smyth, field agent in poultry from the College of Agriculture. This preparation is especially important in the case of pullets since any change in their living conditions after they begin to lay is apt to cause them to stop for a time.

The interior arrangement of the house is perhaps the most important item in the satisfactory and efficient management and housing of the flock during the winter, the specialists say. If the nests, roosts and equipment are placed off the floor all available space there can be used for scratching purposes. This arrangement necessitates a dropping board under the roosts which keep the straw litter clean. The board should be two and one-half to three feet from the floor and extend at least 10 inches beyond the edge of the first roost. If the roosts are placed on a level no trouble will be experienced in keeping the birds evenly distributed over them during the night. Ten to 12 inches of roosting space is sufficient for birds of the heavier breed while eight inches is sufficient for Leghorns.

Serviceable and inexpensive nests can be made out of orange or lemon crates by placing them on one side and nailing a four-inch strip along the front to hold the straw in the nest. If this type of nest is used a framework should be built along the wall to hold the boxes in place.

A large self-feeder or hopper is essential when dry mash is fed. If this is placed about one foot off the floor straw and dirt can be kept out of it easily. The water vessel also should be out of the way of dirt and may be placed on a platform built about one foot above the floor. Farmers who wish special help with their poultry housing problems may obtain information from the Experiment Station, Lexington.

KIDNAPED GIRL FOUND AT GRANDMOTHER'S HOME

Cave City, Ky., Oct. 20.—Bernice Prather, 11-year-old adopted daughter of Mrs. Nellie Hunt, Raiford, who was snatched away from school Monday by two men and two women in an automobile, has been found at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Hartfords Sanders, one mile from here, according to local police. The girl was adopted by Mrs. Hunt five years ago a short time after she was sent to the Kentucky Children's Home following the death of her mother. Her father is believed to have been one of the "kidnapers."

REAL HEAT IN PHILIPPINES

Traveler's Description of Weather During Some Months Is Not by Any Means Alluring.

The rainy season is behind time, and the dear garden burns yellow brown. It is so hot that even the crickets are still. The long, black-raftered rooms are unendurably warm. Caroline S. Shunk writes in Asia Magazine. Smoke from the servants' fire in the yard drifts in over us. The yellow earth at our back door stretches, a glaring plain, to meet the jungle, which rolls up a rich green carpet to the "Secret Place Mountain," where, so runs the legend, a Negrito chieftain hid his favorite wife. There she died, and, at her request, the delicately carved comb that held her long hair was buried with her. From this grave, the natives say, grew a tree with leaves like the fine, soft hair of a woman—the useful and beautiful bamboo tree.

Out in the yard the women have ceased their chanting to the beat of their washing paddles, to sit around a chow pot of rice and smoke long, black cigars. Their sphinx-like faces have no illuminating expression, save when a baby toddles too near the open fire. Then the look of fear and love with which the child is hastily snatched away into the arms of the little brown mother includes us for an instant and is gone. We are shut out in an alien world again. I hear the plaint of the Chinese cook: "China not same. Allee samee China boys go. Too muchee Melican man." Then, a harsh, clattering word like a tin pan falling from a table—perhaps a Chinese swearword!

CAVE HAS STRANGE PROPERTY

Peculiar Conditions in Cavern on Tahiti Have Never Been Satisfactorily Explained.

About 27 kilometers from Papeete, Tahiti, is a large opening in the side of a mountain called the Cave of Marae. It is the reputed burial place of a powerful wizard of old, the spell of whose enchantments still broods over the cavern. The particular manifestation which interests passersby is the impossibility of striking the opposite wall of the cave with a stone, although to the eye the feat seems the easiest of undertakings. Most newcomers burst at the legend and start out with an easy throw, only to see the missile drop in the water apparently but a few feet away.

Then they warm to the work and exert all the force that is in them, and, at last making slings, strive with all their might to overcome the power of the old warlock; but to no avail. The stones drop ignominiously in the water as if some unseen hand had caught them in midair and cast them down in the center of the cavern. The reason has never been explained satisfactorily.—Chicago Journal.

Hair a Nuisance, Anyway.

Baldness is unnecessary. We have it on the authority of a sharp who can raise hair as easily as a farmer raises wheat. Men become bald because they keep their hair cut short and the follicle system becomes lazy, and with not enough to do it loses interest in its work and the hair falls out. Women do not become baldheaded because they allow their hair to grow long. This gives the hair-producing system plenty of exercise and keeps it strong and healthy. In order to escape baldness man has only to allow his hair to grow long, either braiding it to hang down his back or coiling it around his some with hairpins and imposing the joint use of mother's dresser every morning.

However, considering the alternative calmly, most men will prefer to be bald, writes Glenn M. Farley in the Seattle Post-Intelligencer. How could a man quarrel with his wife with his hair braided down his back?

Constant Search for Tannin.

The oak is one of the best known natural sources of tannin, although it is found in many other trees. The spread of industry has increased the call for tannin to such a degree that search has been made all over the world for some new tree capable of supplementing the oak, hemlock and other trees in furnishing this indispensable substance.

A certain degree of success has attended the search in Argentina, where there is found a tree called the quebracho, from which excellent tannin can be obtained. The wood of this tree is very hard and durable, and it grows in large forests. It has been known as a tannin producer for about 100 years, but only in late years has the extraction of the tannin been conducted in Argentina. Formerly the wood was exported.

HELPED BY SENSE OF HUMOR

Possibly Man Who Would Incorporate It in the Marriage Ceremony Is Right.

A man got up the other day and said it was his opinion that a sense of humor was so important in life that it ought to be put right into the marriage ceremony.

It is needless to add that the man who got up and said it was a bachelor. If he had been a married man he wouldn't have been allowed to get up in the first place, and even if he had managed that he couldn't have dared say anything so radical.

This gentleman's suggestion was that, since the "obey" had been annulled from the service, the loving couple should be required to "love, honor, and have a sense of humor" until death do them part.

Undoubtedly a sense of humor has its place in the home, but we don't see the advantage of thrusting it into the wedding service.

If you really had a sense of humor in working order you wouldn't be doing anything so ridiculous as promising anything. A man getting married is in no condition to enjoy a joke—even if he is one.

When a man can hardly keep a wife, the way prices are, how can he be expected to keep a sense of humor? Even if he did manage to scrape up the remnants of one after the wedding it would be knocked out by the first of the month, when the bills begin to come in.

Generally speaking, a sense of humor in matrimony is about as much use as a map of Europe, published in 1913.—Chicago Herald and Examiner.

SIMPLE DIET ALWAYS BEST

As True Now as When Addison Advised It, More Than Two Centuries Ago.

Two hundred years ago Addison wrote: "Nature delights in the most plain and simple diet. Every animal, but man, keeps to one dish. Herbs are the food of this species, fish of that and flesh of a third. Man falls upon the smallest fruit or excrescence of the earth, scarce a berry or mushroom can escape him."

"It is impossible to lay down any determinate rule for temperance. Were I to consider my readers as my patients, and to prescribe such a kind of temperance as is accommodated to all persons, I would copy the following rules of a very eminent physician: 'Make your whole repast out of one dish; if you indulge in a second, avoid drinking anything strong till you have finished your meal; at the same time abstain from all sauces, or at least such as are not the most plain and simple.'"

Persia's Sales Methods.

In Teheran are aristocratic shoe shops where the styles of Europe and America are copied from illustrations in catalogues that have somehow or other found their way out there. These shops have glass windows and real doors, and they display their goods in a way thought to be truly Parisian. The glass windows, though the panes are small, must have cost a deal of money, for glass is almost unknown in Persia.

The master shoemaker stands proudly at his door and welcomes a customer with the greeting, "All that I have is yours—my shop and all the goods." But once the prospective customer is inside the shopkeeper forgets to be the Frenchman of the Orient and the bargaining methods of the East begin.

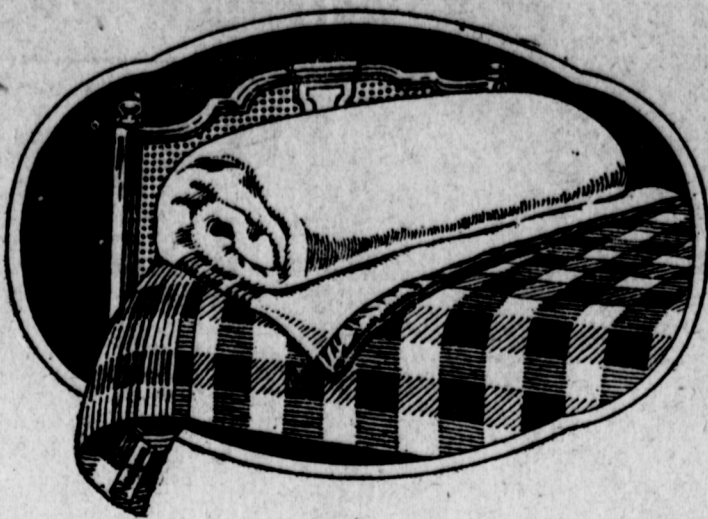

The customer is assured that the price asked is half the actual cost, while all the time a quarter of the sum named would buy the goods. If no business results, politeness is still the order of the day, for a Persian does not consign a man to Hades, but just insinuates, by referring to him as the "son of a burnt father," that his honored parent is already there.—Roland Garbold in Asia.

Columbus' Landing Place.

For four centuries there have been dispute and disagreement as to the first landing place of Columbus in the new world. It is known that he landed on one of the Bahama Islands, but in that widely-scattered group there are 36 pieces of land, large enough to be classified as islands, and about 700 "cays" or "keys," like those which lie along the Florida coast, and in some cases pretty well out to sea. The early narratives have it that Columbus landed at or on a place which the native Indians called Guanahani, and which the Spaniards named San Salvador, or Holy Saviour. Cat Island has been given as the landing place of Columbus and so has Watling Island. Attwoods Key or Samana has been chosen by some as the place which Columbus called San Salvador, and other investigators who may be termed authorities have picked Turks Island, and others have chosen the island of Mariguana.—Washington Star.

Adams' "Midnight Judges."

The "Midnight Appointments" was a term applied to executive appointments or nominations made by President John Adams the last night of his administration. Congress had passed a bill authorizing the appointment of eighteen new United States judges, and Adams, with the consent of the senate, appointed judges to fill these newly created vacancies. They were sometimes known as "Adams' Midnight Judges." The new law was repealed early in Jefferson's administration and the judges lost their offices.

TAX COMMISSION REFUSES REDUCTION OF FARM ASSESSMENTS

Mr. Clarence Westerfield, Tax Commissioner, Davies county, Owensboro, Ky.

"Dear Sir—Replying to your letter of September 30, beg to advise you that you should notify each taxpayer in this district that you will not stand for the twenty-five per cent reduction from last year, and it might be well enough to give them written notice.

"The trouble with farmers' organizations is that they lose sight of the fact that while farm lands have reduced in value or sale price something like thirty or thirty-three and a third per cent, that with this reduction they still have not reduced to where they were assessed.

"You are authorized to show this letter to any taxpayer who asks a reduction.
